"Just book the cheapest boarding" is terrible advice

> This box stays on screen the whole video. Claude adds it in the edit. You don't need to hold anything.

SET UP (2 MINUTES)

- Lie on the couch or floor. A calm dog's head in the bottom of the frame.
- Phone in selfie mode, vertical, at your eye level. Talk to the lens like a FaceTime call.
- Window light on your face. Never a window behind you.
- Use the dog's real name wherever it says DOG.
- Mistake? Pause 3 seconds and say the line again. Claude cuts it.

THE SCRIPT

1 HOOK

"'Just book the cheapest boarding' is terrible advice for anyone leaving their dog this holiday, okay? Cheap is not always the answer. That's what DOG says. But she's gonna tell you what is, okay?"

2 WHO YOU ARE

"For context, I'm Amanda, this is DOG, and I'm the owner of Four Paws Inn. We have over 230 Google reviews and a 4.9 star rating, one of the most loved dog boarding homes in South Florida."

3 WHY LISTEN

"And me saying cheap isn't the answer, that's coming from someone who cares for dogs in our home every single day."

4 THE PROBLEM

"Here's why cheap is not always the answer. If your dog comes home and doesn't want to go back, why would you book that again? You wouldn't do that with your kids, so why do it with your dog?"

5 THE ANSWER

"The right move for most of you is to find a place your dog actually wants to go back to. Because when your dog is happy, you can actually enjoy your trip."

6 WHAT WE DO

"Here, your dog lives in our home. No kennels. They play outside every hour, and you get a video of them every day."

7 PROOF

"DOG says if you don't believe me, just ask Elaine, whose pups didn't want to leave. Or Sean, who feels at peace every time he leaves his dog with us. Or Marcella, who picked a home over a big facility for her two little dogs."

8 CALL TO ACTION

"So before you book the cheapest place and hope for the best, let us show you what a real home stay looks like. Sounds good? DOG, tell them to tap the button. They tap the button, send us their dates and tell us about their dog. We can't wait to meet them."

THEN FILM 2 MORE OPENINGS

> Same spot, same dog. Say the new opening, then go straight into line 2 and keep going to the end.

OPENING B

"'Just have a friend watch your dog' is terrible advice, okay? A friend means well, but they have a job and a life. Here, caring for your dog is our whole day."

OPENING C

"'Your dog will be fine in a kennel' is terrible advice, okay? Fine isn't the goal. Happy is."
